Breathe Easy: Five Tips to Help Control Your Asthma

Create an Action Plan. Be prepared if your asthma gets worse. Make a plan with your Primary Care Provider (PCP). Learn the best way to take your medicine, how to avoid triggers and when to get help. If you have an attack, look back at your plan to understand what made your symptoms worse.

Tame Your Triggers. These are different for everyone. They include mold, pet dander and household cleaners. Write down how shifts in weather affect you. This will help you remember which seasons irritate your asthma the most. You can then limit outdoor activities during these seasons in the future.

Keep Moving. Physical activity can make lungs stronger and lower the risk of an attack. It can also make your quality of life better. Do warm-up exercises before going harder. If it's cold, wear a face mask to warm the air you breathe in. In extreme temperatures, choose an indoor activity instead. As with any exercise program, check with your PCP before starting.

Manage Medications. People react to medications differently. You may need to try a few types to find what works best for your asthma. The sooner you treat symptoms, the less severe they will be and the less medication you'll need.

Breathe Better. Watch for signs like wheezing or shortness of breath. These could mean you are about to have an attack. If you experience symptoms, breathing exercises can help you remain calm and in control. Talk with your PCP or look into our Asthma Care Management program to learn more.

Allergies Are Nothing to Sneeze At

Watery, itchy eyes. Sneezing fits. If you have allergies, you know how miserable this time of year can be. There are things you can do that can make you feel better this allergy season.

Allergy testing lets your doctor know what you're allergic to. That way a plan can be made to help you deal with allergies. Getting tested is a good first step to finding relief.

Additionally, what time you are outside and the weather can have a big effect on your allergies. Pollen levels are higher in the morning. So plan to be outdoors later in the day if possible. And if it's dry and windy, it is better to limit the amount of time you spend outside.

You can also learn about the amount of pollen in your area. Watch the local TV news during the weather report. Visit weather websites. There are also emails and other ways to check pollen levels near you.

Open windows expose you to pollen and other allergens. Use your air conditioner when at home or riding in a car. Check and change your air filters to improve air quality. And keep your carpets and floors clean and dust-free.

Lastly, watch what you eat. Foods like sugar, wheat and dairy can make allergies worse. If you get symptoms like nausea, headache, dizziness, an itchy throat or wheezing, take note and avoid that food in the future. Don't forget to drink plenty of water to flush and hydrate your system.

Spring Break, Healthy Break?

Spring break is a good time to relax. With these five tips, make your spring break a healthy break—and feel great.

Enjoy activity. You don't need a gym. Take a hike, go sightseeing on a bicycle or enjoy a swim. Prefer games? Grab a Frisbee, start a game of disc golf or try your hand at another type of play. There are many fun activities that can keep you moving.

Give back. Look for ways to support your community by volunteering. Many nonprofit organizations need assistance. Helping others relieves stress. A win-win!

Practice moderation. For some, having a drink or two is part of unwinding. But alcohol can negatively impact even occasional drinkers because it elevates blood sugar levels. It can also lead to unhealthy snacking. Make sure to drink water and limit your intake.

Eat smart. Just because you're on vacation doesn't mean calories and nutritional value don't count. Your body still needs vitamin-rich fuel. If you indulge at one meal, don't let it derail your week. Eat veggies, fruits and lean proteins throughout the day to feel your best.

Catch some shut-eye. Try to keep your sleep routine within an hour or so of normal. By sticking to a consistent sleep schedule, you will feel more rested and have the energy to make your spring break the best one ever.

How to Eat Healthy and Shop Smart on a Budget

Healthy eating doesn't have to come with a high price tag. Check out these ideas for nutritious budget meals.

Choose wisely by selecting in-season and frozen fruits and vegetables. Check for price-per-pound deals on meat; consider buying larger portions and freezing what you don't use. Ask the butcher for lean and less expensive cuts. Beans are also an easy and affordable source of protein.

Discount grocers and farmers' markets offer healthy options at lower costs than other stores. Many of the same products are carried in other stores with different brand names.

Make a shopping list to cut down on impulse buys. Check the weekly sales of the grocers in your area to find the best deals on healthy options. Cut out or print coupons. Many grocers now have their own apps that let you make a shopping list. Then you can "clip" electronic coupons and view their advertised sales.

Cook once, eat twice. For example, whole chickens are usually a cheaper protein source that can extend into multiple meals.

Going in with a friend or family member to purchase bulk items helps keep your spending and food waste down. Freeze individual packs of food in freezer-safe storage bags for fast and easy food prep later.

Take a Coloring Break

You don't have to be a kid to enjoy the benefits of coloring. Recent studies have found that adults can use coloring to help with stress. It's like meditating. You switch your thoughts to coloring instead of worrying. Take a few minutes and relax with this coloring page. There is even another one for you to share with your child or a friend.
